

STAFFORD COUNTY, VIRGINIA DEPUTY COUNTY ADMINISTRATOR

Stafford County, Virginia (139,992), a growing community located midway between Washington, DC and Richmond, the capital of Virginia along I-95, invites qualified candidates to apply for the position of Deputy County Administrator. Due to recent and upcoming employee succession, the County is currently seeking and accepting applications for two (2) Deputy County Administrators.

Stafford County government operates with a seven (7) member elected Board of Supervisors and appointed County Administrator. The Deputy County Administrators report directly to the County Administrator and serve as integral players in the County's senior leadership team. Various departments under the supervision of each position include Information Technology, Parks and Recreation, Economic Development, Public Works, Utilities, Planning and Zoning and Landfill. The County is operating with a Fiscal Year 2017 general fund budget of $275.3 million and is supported by over 800 staff members. Stafford has long been recognized for its sound financial management practices and boasts a 'AAA' bond rating.

Successful candidates will possess bachelor's degree in public or business administration, economics, planning, engineering or a related field with a master's degree desirable. In addition, a minimum of five (5) to nine (9) years of public or private sector management experience as a chief or deputy chief administrative officer of a comparably sized community or organization is required. Past experience should demonstrate familiarity in a broad range of local government operations ranging from public works and utilities to parks and recreation and economic development. Candidates should hold experience working in a fast-paced growing community or organization and have success in balancing a wide range of services related to supporting an increasing industrial, commercial and residential presence. Designation as an ICMA Credentialed Manager is a plus.
